An Introduction

Our goal is to satisfy our customers, every time.

To do this, we strive to understand what your business requires. We don't act like a big corporation where "one-size, fits all". Rather, our Account Managers and Customer Service team adopt a personalised approach, helping you select products that suit your business and delivering to your door in a manner that doesn't interfere with your operations.

We are proud to represent thousands of products, but also boast a unique portfolio of hand-selected drinks that will help you grow margins and revenues.

We are thrilled that each week more customers sign up to be part of the Liquid experience, with our supply chain now stretching from Far North Queensland to Northern New South Wales.

World-class beverages mixed with a passion for customer care – that's our promise to you.

Fermenting

Fermentation is thought to have originated around 8,000 years ago and has been traced back to the territory of modern-day Georgia, where wine residues were discovered on the inner surfaces of 8,000-year-old ceramic storage jars.

This time-honoured tradition, producing flavours which dance through the palate, creating an atmosphere of delight, has become a fine art worthy of regular celebration.

'Bossa', the affectionate nickname that Vittorio De Bortoli bestowed on his childhood sweetheart and loving wife Giuseppina, identifies the authentically Australian story of a modern migrant woman. La Bossa wines pay homage to Giuseppina's inspiring traits. They are wines that are proud and authentic but with the kind of contemporary style and vibrancy that made Giuseppina one of a kind.

Laughing Jack Old Vine Moppa Grenache 2008

"Made from old, low-yielding estate vines, open fermented and matured for 18 months in French oak hogsheads. The colour is very deep for Barossa Grenache, the flavours running through confit plum, prune, blackberry, spice and a touch of chocolate. Flies way outside the boundaries of most Barossa Valley Grenache, looking more to McLaren Vale."

Massena The Eleventh Hour Shiraz 2009

“Massena Eleventh Hour Shiraz is grown in the highly praised Marananga sub-region of the Barossa Valley. It’s wild yeast fermented and always shows as a sizeable, sweet-fruited style. This release is no exception. It smells and tastes of raspberry, blackberry essence, caramelised figs and various warm spices... an exceptionally tidy, clean, controlled wine – the signal of its class.”

The Vineyard

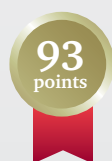

“Old timers in the Barossa called their vineyards “gardens”, often because that’s exactly what they were: rows of old bush vines, shiraz and grenache, as well as some undervalued varieties such as cinsault, carignan and bastardo – sharing space with pear trees and fig trees. Ken Schlieb’s old 18-hectare garden in Vine Vale is a classic example, it even boasts an original (if delapidated) wattle and daub shed. It was the classic Barossa character of the place that attracted Smallfry founder Wayne Ahrens to Ken’s block. That and the fact that it’s next door to where Ahrens’ great-great-grandfather first settled in the 1830s, Max Allen, who featured Smallfry in his seminal wine book, The Future Makers.”

Suckfizzle Sauvignon Blanc Semillon 2007

The beginnings of Stella Bella date back to 1999 when winemakers Janice McDonald and Stuart Pym released 200 cases of a truly remarkable wine – the single-vineyard Suckfizzle Sauvignon Blanc Semillon. This unique white Bordeaux-styled wine remains the beating heart of Stella Bella.

Suckfizzle Cabernet Sauvignon 2007

“Whoa! The ripeness of the ‘07 vintage has delivered one very impressive wine here. Dark berries intermingled with roasting herbs and ripe leaves, some nice cedary and spiced oak, hints of chocolate, some gravelly edges too. The palate drizzles dark-berry flavour across beautifully textured tannins, long and majestic, and finishing bright. Reminds me of St Estephe in a good year!” – Nick Stock

Distillation

Distillation is a noble art with a long and rich history. It is thought that its invention came courtesy of ancient Egyptians and Persians, who passed the knowledge onto the Arabs, who in turn educated Europeans. By 1500, German alchemist Hieronymus Braunschweig had published “Liber de arte destillandi” (The Book of the Art of Distillation), and a worldwide movement was well and truly underway.

So, sit back and ponder the beauty of your dram. To all those responsible, we salute you...

666 Pure Tasmanian Vodka

San Francisco World Spirit Competition 2010 Gold Medal.

Tasmania is famous for its clean air and natural beauty. Hidden away in this sanctuary of wild forests and windswept hills is the aptly named Cape Grim.

Scientists have proven the air here is the cleanest in the world. The wind blows the Antarctic rains uninhibited to the Cape. This is where we source our water. Each precious drop is so pure it is almost a sin to take it.

Tasmania, a pristine island that sits below the rugged coastline of Australia, north of Antarctica. It's an environmental wilderness famous for its clean air and natural beauty. It's also home to the mad Tasmanian Devil, a very aggressive and evil tempered creature which you would not want to hand feed.

Pure Distillery Company openly admit to stealing all that is natural and pure from Tasmania. We only use Tasmanian barley in our triple pot distilled and charcoal filtered process. The result is a velvety smooth, yet distinctly clean tasting vodka.

“Claret is the liquor for boys; port, for men; but he who aspires to be a hero must drink brandy.”

English poet Samuel Johnson

Brewing

Brewing has taken place since around the 6th millennium BC, and archeological evidence suggest that this technique was used in ancient Egypt. Descriptions of various beer recipes can be found in Sumerian writings, some of the oldest known writings of any sort. Today, the process remains essentially the same – except that thousands of micro-brewers across the globe are now adding their unique twist to this ancient pastime.

Cider is a way of life in Sweden – in fact, it is believed Scandinavia is the original home of cider. Kopparberg was founded by a group of small brewers, with its brewery being built in 1945. After being left in the possession of a bank in 1993, brothers Peter and Dan-Anders Bronsman re-opened the business and, adhering to virtues of simplicity, have established Kopparberg as a truly world-class cider producer. Kopparberg is now sold in more than 40 countries and is the world’s best-selling pear cider.

Fiji Water is drawn from an artesian aquifer that lies hundreds of feet below the edges of an isolated rainforest, hundreds of miles away from the nearest industrial centre. Until you unscrew the cap, Fiji Water never meets the compromised air of the 21st century nor is it touched by another human being. No other natural waters can honestly make that claim. This is part of what makes Fiji Water so much purer, healthier, and richer in taste than other bottled waters.

The Philosophy of Found

Today's marketplace is still dominated by poor quality products driven by big companies making big margins. Quality is sacrificed for scale and purity is replaced by the artificial.

But retailers are slowly adapting to a new age of consumer who demands organic, natural products, at attainable prices.

Found is dedicated to pushing this trend to mass levels, and we lead by example. Our brand has nothing to hide – the ingredients are on the front of the bottle, the content is pure, the promise is transparent and truthful.
